A born-and-bred native of Victoria, Elodie Adams has been involved with music and dance for most of her life. She began dancing in Victoria at Wynne Shaw's dance studio, and ended up teaching tap dance to adults and performing in France, where she lived, worked, danced, and sang in vocal ensembles for 18 years. Elodie has an undergraduate degree from the University of Victoria and more recently completed the Journalism program at Langara College in Victoria. Since then she has worked in journalism for newspapers in Saskatchewan and on Vancouver Island, and does freelance writing and copy editing. She is happy to bring her media skills to the Festival's board.
